

Mysterious Things

Sometimes in life you find the most mysterious things
Things that you cannot explain
Sometimes in life you find the most mysterious things
Like hidden molecules floating through your veins

Tell me, tell me what is the answer
What are we doing here
Tell us, tell us why the earth turns
Ask them, ask them why there are colours

Sometimes in life the most mysterious things come to you
But you have to discover them to
Sometimes in life the most mysterious things come to you
But life has its limits all the way through

Us being are cruel, we're just being fools
We want to be cool, so we kill of for food

Are we computer generated fools ?
What shall we do ?
Close up on ourselves, and not think things through Those idiot things that us humans do

Sometimes in life you find the most mysterious things
Things that you cannot explain
Sometimes in life the most mysterious things come to you
Like hidden creatures lurking in the woods

We are psychopaths searching for attention, and gold
We don't open our eyes, or listen to earths words.
